FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Hundreds of Cheltenham parkrunners go the extra mile for animals this World Animal Day

Hundreds of local parkrunners joined Naturewatch Foundation at Pittville Park this weekend to donate pet food for animals in need, helping to turn World Animal Day into a community-wide act of kindness.

Hundreds of Cheltenham parkrunners came together on Saturday October 3 to support local rescue animals, bringing donations of pet food and supplies to Naturewatch Foundation's Donate a Dinner collection at Pittville Park.

The collection was held ahead of World Animal Day on October 4, as part of Naturewatch Foundation's annual campaign encouraging people across the UK to support their local animal rescues.

Runners, families and members of the local community stopped by the Naturewatch Foundation stall before and after the weekly Cheltenham parkrun, with donations collected for Teckels Animal Sanctuaries and Cheltenham Animal Shelter.

With animal rescue centres across the UK facing increasing pressures, the Donate a Dinner campaign highlights how a simple act of kindness can make a meaningful difference to animals in their care.

CEO of Naturewatch Foundation Sarah Carr said:

> "It was fantastic to see so many people at Cheltenham parkrun getting behind Donate a Dinner and showing their support for animals in need.

World Animal Day is a wonderful opportunity to celebrate animals, but it's also a chance to do something practical to help them. We are incredibly grateful to everyone who donated, and to the wonderful Cheltenham parkrun volunteer team for welcoming us and helping make the collection possible.

Together, these donations will help provide much-needed food for animals in the care of local rescue organisations, showing how a small act of kindness can make a real difference."

Chelsea Rogers, Social Media Manager at Teckels Animal Sanctuaries, said:

"We are honoured to be the chosen charity partner for Naturewatch Foundation's 2026 Donate a Dinner campaign. The rising cost of living has had a significant impact on Teckels, making support initiatives like this more important than ever. This campaign provides invaluable support for animal rescues, and we encourage everyone to get involved and show their support!"

The Cheltenham collection forms part of Naturewatch Foundation's wider Donate a Dinner campaign, which is encouraging people around the UK to support their local rescue centre this World Animal Day.

Animal lovers can take part by donating food or supplies directly to a local rescue, organising a collection at work, school or in their community, or donating the cost of a meal.
